Open University has not yet added to the Registration Request form drop-down for Spring 2025. We expect it to be added by early December. We recommend filling out the enrollment request form during December or early January.

Registration typically does not open for the remaining open seats for SDSU courses until a week or two before the semester begins, but you may be able to register ahead of time since that process can take up to 3 business days. The first day of SDSU Spring 2025 courses is January 21st.

You may monitor the Class Schedule for open seats & class time/location now:

Search NURS 312 Nursing Professionalism, the first course in the sequence
Search NURS 307W Research and Writing, the second course in the sequence

Registration steps should be on this page, and you will start by clicking the teal button to submit the Enrollment Request form, see screenshots.
